

29th SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME - C

How should we pray? Luke's gospel takes as one of its special concerns our conversation with God. Last Sunday we were reminded of the need for gratitude; today's parable encourages us to keep asking for what we need even if God does not answer our requests immediately. To make his point, Jesus even represents God as a dishonest judge who dispenses justice only under pressure! The Christian must be like the widow who pesters until she wins her case. We do not know why God delays; but when judgment is given, Jesus promises, it will be quickly. He concludes with a question: Will there be faith – like the persevering faith of the widow who refused to take 'no' for an answer – when Christ returns at the end of time? The first reading is no more edifying than the parable equating God with a dishonest judge, and the lesson is as striking: we must persevere! The second reading calls for another kind of perseverance, fidelity to the truth of the Christian tradition as it has been handed down to us. Scripture challenges both its teacher and its hearer to fidelity and growth in holiness.

TALKING TO GOD

Oh God throughout these troubled days,
Of scandals in our church;
And few attending Mass each week,
are lost in soul and search.

Our precious priests are over worked,
And less are yet to come.
Our world is full of drugs and crime,
That worries everyone.

The laws are passed and morals denied.
Pleasure replaces what's right,
And money craze for profit raised procurring the unjust plight.

Oh God I pray, return today,
the dignity of man.

The basic common goodness cause,
Your first intended plan.

Make straight the path to lead us all,
to glorify your name.
In deed and praise through all our days,
Until you come again.

By the grace of God.....Dennis Hayes.....28-May-2013
