

21st SUN IN ORDINARY TIME - A

The authority which Jesus gave to Peter and through him to the Church is the subject of today's gospel. Jesus questions his disciples about their understanding of his identity. Solemnly, Simon confesses his faith in Jesus as the Messiah and Son of God. Delighted, but with great seriousness too, Jesus replies by giving Simon a new name and new function as leader of the Church. He is not to take pride in his faith; it is a free gift of the Father. Jesus speaks of Peter as his rock, and the Church as a city built on this rock which will be victorious over evil. In the power of reconciling or excommunicating (symbolized by the keys), Peter is comparable to the head servant Eliakim in the first reading, who can grant or refuse entrance. Paul's letter to the Romans inspires us to admiration and wonder at the immensity of God's love and the wisdom of his plan in the founding of the Church. The gospels make it clear that Peter was a frail human; yet, through God's power, the community founded on him will endure.

22nd SUN IN ORDINARY TIME - A

Today's gospel follows immediately upon last week's, when Peter was constituted foundation stone of the Church. But now Jesus begins to speak of his freely accepted destiny to suffer and die. Peter is scandalized, and tries to dissuade his master. He would have Jesus be a glorious messiah, not a suffering servant. Before, Jesus had called Peter his rock; now he severely terms him Satan. Not only must Jesus suffer; his disciple must do likewise, sharing the Lord's destiny. This is a hard saying; when Jesus finally reaches Jerusalem, he will walk alone to the Cross. The loneliness of the person called by God is demonstrated by the vehemence with which Jeremiah struggles against his prophetic calling. But the fire of the Spirit is irresistible; the prophet cannot keep silence. He must do God's work and speak God's word. In our day we can offer our life freely to God, not counting the cost. Then the Spirit will fashion us according to God's will, making us perfect disciples of the Lord Jesus.
