

The Body and Blood of Christ – A

How easy it is to live as though material things can satisfy our longing for the full life!

In today's first reading Moses reminds the chosen people that they were ready to be sustained by God's word and fed by the manna and water in the desert only after every material support has failed.

God's care for his people in the desert prepared for Jesus' remarkable offer, recounted in the gospel, of his flesh and blood – his entire person – to be the real food and drink which nourishes us spiritually. The possibility of being so closely united to him challenges our faith and tests our longing for the life of the spirit. Paul's letter teaches us that eating the Eucharistic bread and drinking the cup gives us a share in Jesus' self-offering on the cross and forms us into a community. Through participating in the Eucharist we become Christ's body! Let us celebrate anew this wonderful sacrament, praying that all who receive it may be united ever more deeply with Christ and with each other.

Corpus Christi Sunday – June 18, 2017

Jesus has given us His Body to eat and His Blood to drink so as to nourish us on our journey towards the Kingdom. May we be faithful to him on our journey as married, single, ordained or consecrated persons. If God is calling you to the priesthood, diaconate or consecrated life, contact Fr. Chris Lemieux at 416-968-0997 or at vocations@archtoronto.org or call Fr. Victor on 416-757-2806 or at olfatima@rogers.com for more information.

Fatima, Portugal, April 20, 2017 – Interview . 5

At just 7-years-old Jacinta had visions of wars, famines and persecutions, and as a result she “assumed the responsibility” of offering and making sacrifices so that everyone could be saved. “And us? What are we doing?” she said, stressing that with television and social media it's not necessary to have a vision of the suffering and tragedy in the world, but “we are part of this humanity and we are a bit responsible for everyone. Sometimes we don't think well about this.”

Marto said that for her, she believes the core of the Our Lady of Fatima's message is that she came “that we might return to God. That we don't forget that God loves us, but that we have to praise him and must give thanks to him.” In addition to this, “we must pray for each other,” she said, explaining that in her instructions to the children, Mary “didn't ask many things that we can't do.”

Pointing to the rosary, she said that according to Lucia, Mary asked that people pray it because “it's an easy prayer,” and can be recited at church, in the car or while walking. If someone isn't able to pray the rosary, Marto suggested at least trying to pray one Hail Mary and Our Father a day, to honor Mary and give thanks to God “for being our friend.”

“God loves us very much and at times sends us his mother to refresh us a bit in order continue,” she said, explaining that “God wants us to be a bit better every day. Because we are always sinners, we are not perfect, but try to be a bit better every day.”

Marto said that she hopes to be present for Pope Francis' visit to Fatima for the centenary of the apparitions in May. Having attended the beatification of her uncle and aunt in 2000, she said she also hopes to be present for the May 13 canonization of the visionaries. She received communion from Bl. Pope Paul VI when he became the first Pope to visit Fatima in 1967, and was also present for the visit of St. John Paul II in 1982, but was farther away. Although she wasn't able to attend Mass when Benedict XVI came in 2010, she hopes to have a good seat at Mass with Francis, and “to be close to him.”
